

Lady Deborah Hockaday

Lady Deborah Hockaday was born and raised Oakland, CA. She was very active in her home church as church musician, choir member, and part of the young people's department. After high school, she attended Armstrong University before marrying (then) Minister Ernest Hockaday and moving to Denver, CO.

She worked faithfully beside Minister Ernest Hockaday in the young people's department of Zion Temple Pentecostal Church. During the 17 years at Zion Temple Deborah Hockaday was a director of several choirs - Young Adult, Women's and Zion Temple's Mass Choir. Also helped as a church musician when needed.

As first lady of now 20 years, Deborah Hockaday is the church musician, choir director, head of the women's department (Women For Christ) and teach the adult class for Sunday school. During this time, she has taught bible study at a women's shelter for 2 years in the Capital Hill area. For the last 15 years our women's department has put together Christmas bags for the women in prison. The amount over the years has been from 600 - 1000 individual bags of toiletries, inspirational books and bibles. Our team of women pray for those who ask right then and there. In order to provide these things for these ladies, she is over the fund raising project, Change For The Kingdom, that provide the funds such an undertaking.

There has been numerous duties done in the church over the years, but it is the work of the Lord. It can truly be said ..."Hitherto has the Lord helped us."
